Schubert "The Fair Maid of the Mill"

(Die Schöne Müllerin D795)

The new English translation of the Schubert cycle by Jeremy Sams was premiered by Toby Spence and Christopher Glynn (who commissioned the translation) at the Wigmore Hall in October 2016. It was repeated recently as the Wigmore Hall/BBC broadcast lunchtime concert.

This is a wonderful opportunity to hear Toby and Christopher in something dear to their hearts – opera and now lieder/songs sung in the language of most of the audience. Come and hear why what might be lost in translation is compensated and more by the immediacy of the sung story of the Miller and his fair maid of the mill.
